NEW DIRECTOR JOINS PORT KEMBLA PORT CORPORATION BOARD

Ports and Waterways Minister Paul McLeay today announced Ms Janine Cullen has been appointed to the board of the Port Kembla Port Corporation.

Mr McLeay congratulated Ms Cullen on her appointment.

“As of April 1 2010, Ms Cullen will take on the role as a non executive director for a period of three years.”

“Ms Cullen’s appointment comes at a time when the port is undergoing a period of major growth and development” said Mr McLeay.

“It has been identified that the development of the Outer Harbour is critical, not only for the future growth of the port, but the capacity of the region to attract and maintain import/export business”.

Member for Wollongong and Parliamentary Secretary for State and Regional Development, Noreen Hay, commended the appointment.

“Ms Cullen has worked tirelessly in the community of Wollongong for years. She will bring great energy and insight to the Port in its time of growth and change.”

“Ms Cullen’s role on the board will include working in conjunction with the community and port management,” Ms Hay.

Port Kembla Port Corporation CEO Dom Figliomeni welcomed Ms Cullen to the board.

“I look forward to working with her and the board as we continue to align our port strategies and policy direction with our port logistic and maritime activities,” Mr Figliomeni said.

Ms Cullen currently holds directorships with the Illawarra Business Chamber, The Illawarra Connection, the Greenacres Disability Services and is a Councillor of the NSW Business Chamber.

Ms Cullen is currently the Managing Director of JC-The Power of One, as role she has held since 1980. Her qualifications include a Fellow of the Australian Institute of Company Directors and Diploma in Marketing.
